

ERIC R. MCQUISTON, PLA

DESIGN WITH PURPOSE

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE & ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTING

DESIGNING PLACES. ENHANCING LIFE. PROTECTING NATURE.

With more than 30 years of experience, I bring clarity, creativity, and technical expertise to every project. My work blends landscape architecture, environmental consulting, and practical project support to help clients make confident, informed decisions and create places that are beautiful, functional, and environmentally responsible.

DESIGN WITH PURPOSE

ROOTED IN NATURE

FOCUSED ON PEOPLE

Good design is more than how a place looks—it's how it works, how it's built, and how it supports life for generations to come.

MEET ERIC R. MCQUISTON, PLA

I offer a comprehensive blend of landscape architecture, environmental consulting, and specialized project support tailored to homeowners, contractors, builders, architects, engineers, developers, and attorneys.

My work is rooted in more than thirty years of hands-on experience, supported by my background in ornamental horticulture, real estate, environmental law studies at Tulane University Law School, and my service in the United States Coast Guard.

EXPERIENCE. EXPERTISE. PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS.

Every project—large or small—benefits from clear direction, thoughtful design, and practical solutions.

Whether you need a schematic landscape plan, drainage or grading guidance, HOA or ARC approval support, development planning, conceptual design, 3D imaging, contractor coordination, or expert witness services, I bring clarity and steady professional judgment to help you make confident, informed decisions.

My goal is simple: to provide designs and guidance that are logical, buildable, environmentally responsible, and aligned with your priorities.

Each service page explores these offerings in more detail and helps you understand how I can support your project at any stage.
